Forecast for Tuesday 14 Sep 2021

Weather: A dull day, with light and persistent rain. The rain may turn to drizzle later in the afternoon, but it'll remain cloudy to overcast, with extensive low cloud. Little change in the evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: <5% throughout.

Visibility: Very limited views throughout, with visibility often poor in any rain or drizzle. Cloud will also obscure summits above 500m for much of the day, and perhaps down to 300m on south facing slopes.

Forecast for Wednesday 15 Sep 2021

Weather: Cloudy with the low risk of some lingering rain or drizzle during the early hours of Wednesday, but soon clearing east. A fine day follows, with overnight cloud soon breaking to give some good spells of warm sunshine. Cloud returning during the evening, with some light rain also possible.

Maximum wind: Northeasterly 5-15mph becoming Westerly 5-15mph during the afternoon.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 20% increasing to 60% by dawn and above 90% by midday.

Visibility: Poor during the early hours with cloud still obscuring hills above 500m, and the chance of drizzle but improving to be good to very good through the morning as cloud lifts and breaks to be above summits level. Any clearer spells through the early hours, could also allow the odd patch of mist or fog to develop in valleys.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 9 Celsius rising to Plus 20 Celsius
At 600m: Plus 9 Celsius rising to Plus 14 Celsius
Freezing level: Above summits.
